What to Expect at This Year's National Reining Breeders Classic

The NRBC returns to Tulsa's Built Ford Tough Livestock Complex at Expo Square for the second year in a row—but the NRBC has been a backbone of the reining community since 1998.

This year, the show has a brand new format, with the Non Pro Classic running for the first week of the show and the Open Classic finishing out the show in the second week. With an additional four days of competition, there is more time than ever before to enjoy all the NRBC has to offer.

Exhibitors and non-exhibitors alike can participate in a cornhole tournament, a trade show, a horseless sliding competition, draw parties, church services, and more. Of course, the main draw is always the spectacular reining from the industry's most talented horses and riders.

Best of all, this action-packed event is free to the public.

The schedule isn't the only thing that's new at the NRBC in 2024. This year, spectators will be introduced to a new method of scoring announcements, a pilot program for the NRHA. Rather than announce the scores at the end of each run, monitors facing the crowd will display the scores to the audience. "We feel like the NRBC has always had the opportunity to be a leader in new ideas for the industry," said NRBC Board President Tom McCutcheon. "We are always excited to try something new!"

In the Non Pro Classic—which begins Tuesday, April 16—riders will be competing for a $50,000 first place prize in the Level 4, but great prizes will be awarded throughout.

With a number of horses sired or foaled by former NRBC champions running in both the Non Pro and Open Classics, this year's event is sure to be a showstopper. The NRBC has always aimed to be more than just a horse show, but a way for the reining community to come together and enjoy their time both in- and outside the arena. This year's event will be no different, promising to be a good time for all.

Ride Through Energy

Double Flag Coffee

If you need a caffeine kick while at the NRBC, visit the Double Flag Coffee truck outside the Exhibition Hall breezeway between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Volunteers from the University United Methodist Church will be serving coffee every day of the event starting on Tuesday, April 16. Riders are welcome to ride up on their horses to get their coffee orders, and all proceeds go to support the ministries of the University United Methodist Church. Double Flag Coffee serves familiar favorites, as well as custom creations like the Celtic Wind (Irish cream & vanilla) or the Caramel Cyclone (vanilla & caramel). Stop by the coffee truck for an energy boost that supports a worthy cause!

2024 NON PRO CLASSIC JUDGES

Officiating a major NRHA event is an incredible honor, and with a payout well over $1 million, the NRBC first the bill.

Evaluating the action in the Ford Arena are Donnie Bricker, Kelly Sapp, Terry Thompson, Rick Weaver, and Ed Bricker, with pre-check judge Ed Cridge.

Waltenberry Productions Returns as Official Photographer

For the 27th year, NRBC welcomes Waltenberry Photography back as the official show photographer. NRHA Hall of Fame members Dick and Barb Waltenberry have created a long legacy of producing stunning action shots of every competitor at the NRBC, and other top NRHA events.

In 2024, the Waltenberrys will continue to provide these services with the high standards of quality that have set the standard for the equine event photography industry as a whole.

In the meantime, check out their photos from other events - including past NRBCs - at Waltenberry.com

Classic Connection

A Pony for Christmas

In 2022, Santa gave five-year-old Harper Whitley of Exeter, Missouri what every little girl dreams of: a pony for Christmas. Before she came to Santa's workshop, the six-year-old pony, Snowball, belonged to Joy and Olivia Deary. If you've been to any NRHA events, you've no doubt seen the Deary girls and their ponies carrying the flag during the national anthem. Snowball used to be one of these patriotic ponies, but now she does leadline classes with Harper. The pair even brought home a blue ribbon from the leadline class at the Tulsa Reining Classic.

Harper and Snowball are here at the NRBC with Harper's parents, Logan and Kaci, who will be showing in the Non Pro Classic and Rookie L1&2, respectively.

Harper says that, like most ponies, Snowball's favorite foods are apples and carrots. As for Harper's favorite thing about her pony? She simply says, "All of it."

Riders Meeting Getting the News

On Monday, NRBC competitors gathered in the Ford Arena for a Riders Meeting, where Announcer Brian Lookabill and present NRBC Board members were introduced. They heard from NRBC Secretary/Treasurer Cheryl Cody and Show Secretary Kathy Gould about rules and expectations ahead of the Non Pro Preliminaries which start today. Riders were also introduced to Chief Steward Van Luse and Steward Walt Larson who outlined additional guidelines for competitors to follow.

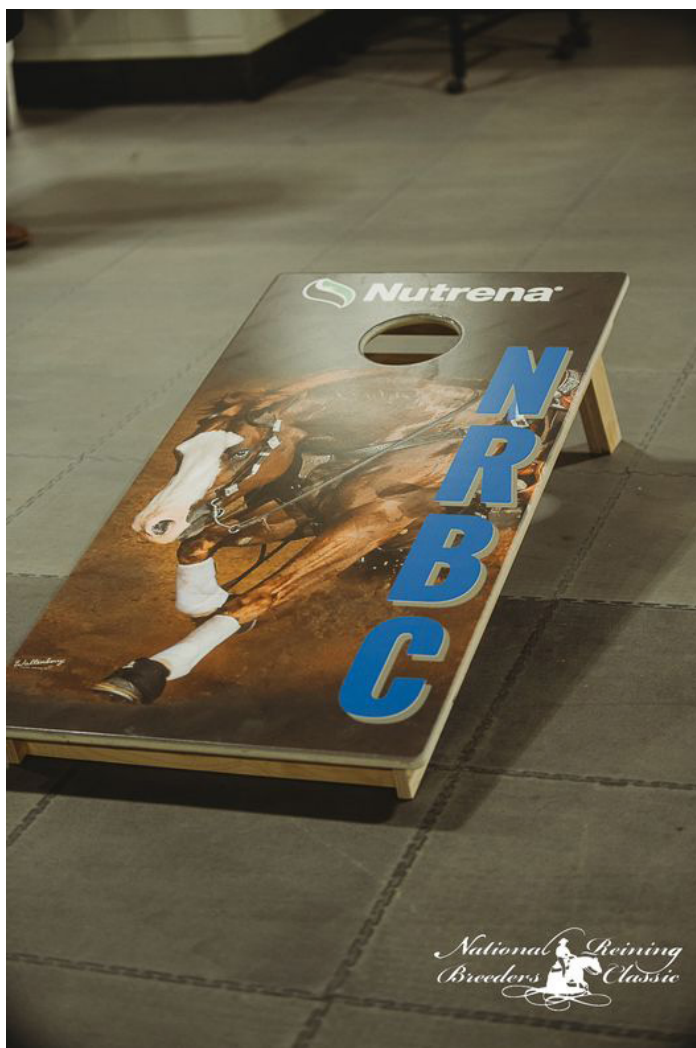

All present seemed excited for the start of what's sure to be a great show!

NUTRENA SPONSORS FIRST-EVER NRBC CORNHOLE TOURNAMENT

The competition won't all take place in the arenas because there will be fun and games held in the grassy area outside Central Park Hall.

The first annual Nutrena Cornhole Tournament is set for April 21 at 2 p.m. in Central Park, and it promises to bring fun and excitement to participants and watchers alike.

Thanks to longtime sponsor Nutrena, it will be a signature NRBC gathering of friends and family coming together to enjoy some fun that doesn't take place on horses. The best aspect of this event is that participants of all skill levels can join in. Be ready to share in camaraderie and good-natured rivalry, which will add excitement to the event—all for the good cause of raising money for Rein In Cancer.

Savannah Magoteaux with the NRBC management team noted, "Sometimes some of the most memorable moments from the shows come from those extra activities. Over the years, NRBC has created many of those special moments."

Kirk Chilson, North Texas/Oklahoma Equine Consultant for Nutrena said, "We are always happy to support the NRBC and its fundraising efforts fighting cancer."

In the wake of March Madness, the bracket format of the Nutrena Cornhole Tournament is easy to understand, with teams of two advancing after each victory. Two games will be taking place simultaneously, so there will be plenty of action.

There will be the thrill of landing the perfect toss, the satisfaction of scoring points, and the suspense of close matches. Once the competition is over, the Champion team will each receive custom NRBC/Nutrena Cornhole Boards to take the competition back home!

GeneTech Sponsors Free Wifi

With major events spanning multiple days, keeping up with business is hard, especially when personal hot spots or cell signals are slow.

That's why National Reining Breeders Classic Gold Plus Sponsor GeneTech Animal Reproduction elected to sponsor free enhanced Wi-Fi service during the 2024 event, slated for April 16-27 at Expo Square in Tulsa, Okla.

"Thiago Boechat and his team at GeneTech understand the importance of taking care of business quickly and efficiently. As a reiner himself, he knows how long the shows can be, and how critical it is to be able to connect," noted Cheryl Cody, NRBC Secretary/Treasurer. "We know our exhibitors will appreciate the free Wifi connections available throughout the Expo Square grounds."

GeneTech is an advanced center for equine reproduction, founded by Boechat and Carlos Ramires. It now has operations in both Brazil and Purcell, Okla.

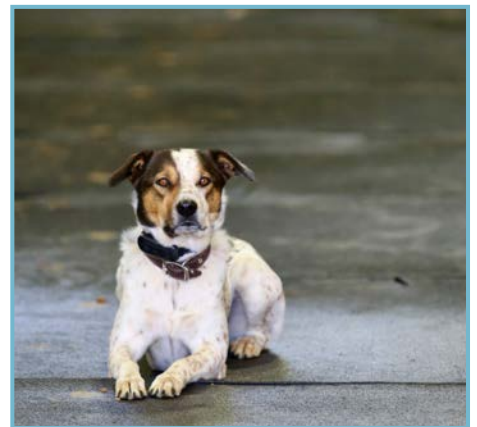

To connect to the Wi-Fi, exhibitors will just have to input the password GENETECH. Signs sharing the network and password information will be posted around the facility.

"We appreciate the opportunity to show our support of the NRBC and its attendees through this partnership," Boechat shared. "This show is one of the most anticipated reining events of the year, and partnering at this level is one way we can give back to an industry and group of people who have been an instrumental part of our success and growth as a business."

About GeneTech

GeneTech is an advanced center for equine reproduction located in Purcell, Okla. specializing in Intracytoplasmic Sperm Injection (ICSI) and advanced semen analysis services. By utilizing cutting-edge technology, a deep understanding of equine genetics, along with highly skilled veterinary practitioners and embryologists, GeneTech is setting new benchmarks in the equine breeding industry. NRBC Traditions

Since its inception nearly 30 years ago, the National Reining Breeders Classic has maintained a reputation of excellence, especially when it comes to the introduction of new ideas and concepts.

One such trend, that quickly became a tradition, was that of color. At the NRBC, Royal Blue is the name of the game. From banners to awards, the color sneaks in everywhere. One such way that the ladies of the NRBC have incorporated the color, is through painting their nails.

"In the past, we've even offered nail painting as a fundraiser for Rein In Cancer," said NRBC Secretary/Treasurer Cheryl Cody. "It's just the thing to do - at the NRBC we have blue nails."

If this NRBC tradition is new to you and you weren't able to bring your blue, don't worry about being left out. Each horse entered receives an NRBC ballcap, sponsored by Electric Code/Foals R Us, and a commemorative bag, sponsored by Magnum Chic Dream, with the signature blue, and anyone lucky enough to take home a prize will also be sporting the color.

Tenda Sponsors Drag Awards at NRBC

This year, Tenda Horse Products is generously sponsoring Drag Awards in all arenas - the Ford, Super Duty Indoor, and Central Park Hall. The high-score earners of each set between drags will receive a bucket of Tenda products to pamper their horses with after a big run. This sponsorship offers another way for competitors to leave Tulsa with prizes even if they aren't the champions in the end.

Alison Thorson of Tenda Horse Products says Tenda wanted to put its own "twist" on its NRBC sponsorship, noting that "getting products into people's hands that actually use these things on a daily basis, like our grooming supplies, our nutritional aids, and our poultice, is a good way for people to try it out for themselves. I'm super excited, and we hope everyone has a great, successful, and safe show."

ADVENTURE JUST MET ITS MATCH.

SO DID FUN, ATMOSPHERE AND CULTURE.

Once "The Oil Capital of the World," T-Town is now rich with resources like countless outdoor and indoor attractions enjoyed by any age including Gathering Place and Greenwood Rising Black Wall St. History Center, a world-class music scene including the Bob Dylan Center® and The Church Studio and a delicious dining scene. Throw in the coolest 28-mile stretch of Route 66 and Tulsa really is the city of everything you could ask for... and more.
