CHURCH SERVICES

Join Us for Worship

Sunday, April 21

Ranger Arena

"Anytime I get a chance to talk about the Lord, I'm happy to do it. I love the horse business because we all come from different places and different backgrounds, but the one thing we all have in common is that we all need to be saved when our time is through on this earth. There's so many of these people that are like family to me, and if I get the opportunity to talk a little about Jesus, I'm going to take it." - Jason Vanlandingham

Congratulations to All

NRBC Finalists

After the last horse leaves the pen in the Non Pro Level 4 Finals, the Non Pro Champions of all Levels will participate in a press conference by the announcer stand.

Everyone is invited to come and join in the excitement of the Press Conference before heading to the Awards Ceremony on the arena floor.

Ancillary Champions Crowned in Novice Horse Non Pro Classes

Novice Horse Non Pro Level 1 Champions Lindsey McCutcheon & Dreamy Lil Gun

Lindsey McCutcheon was crowned the winner of the first slate of the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 1 at the NRBC. She rode a four-year-old daughter of Magnum Chic Dream named Dreamy Lil Gun to a score of 71.5. The mare is colloquially called 'Dora,' for a very simple reason.

"She just looked like a Dora," McCutcheon remarked, with a laugh. "She's the kind of horse that anybody who wants to come out and ride something can get on."

Dora hasn't been shown much, so McCutcheon was proud of the mare's performance at the NRBC.

"[She] felt probably the same in the show as she did in the warm up. I was really, really happy with it," she said. "I had to push her every stride, which is a good thing. I like that feeling."

McCutcheon thanked her parents, but especially her mom for holding down the fort back at the ranch.

"She's at home taking care of everything," she shared. "They have lots of mares and babies right now, and she is running the whole show at home by herself pretty much."

Novice Horse Non Pro Level 2 Champions Tiffany Bauer & CC Pearl Jam

Tiffany Bauer claimed the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 2 aboard her mare, CC Pearl Jam, by Colonels Shining Gun out of Jamrock Joe. When asked to talk about her horse, Bauer shared, “She’s a five-year-old mare, and I love her so much.”

Bauer and ‘Pearl’ marked a 72.5 for their run—a score Bauer was thrilled about.

“Today we’ve had the run that I’ve always known was in her and myself and I’m so excited,” she beamed. “The goal was to go in there and just have fun and show the horse that I know that I have. And we did that and I was thrilled. I was so excited.”

There was a specific moment in the run where Bauer knew she and Pearl had it put together.

“I think when I loped off for my figure eight, I was like, ‘okay, we’re doing good...’ This mare has never stopped up the middle before. I’ve always had a wraparound pattern on her for her whole career... When I rolled back and then asked her to run again, it was a little bit like, ‘what are we doing? Are you sure?’” Bauer recalled, with a laugh.

Bauer thanked her family, as well as her trainer, Stefano Calcagnini.

Novice Horse Non Pro Level 3 Champions Karen Shedlauskas & Best Jac

Karen Shedlauskas, aboard Best Jac, climbed to the top of the leaderboard in the Novice Horse Non Pro Level 3 with a score of 71.5.

“I’ve always had some sort of bobble that kept me from the big prize, so this is cool,” said Shedlauskas. “In the derby, I had a big penalty because I couldn’t figure out how to get rolled back, so my goal today was to do that clean, and I did it, so I’m happy with that.”

Best Jac, a 2019 gelding by Jacs Electric Spark out of Snip O Chex, has only been piloted by Shedlauskas for a year. Before that, Tom and Mandy McCutcheon had the reins.

“After I tried him, right before I left, I asked Tom his name, and he looked at me like it was a dumb question,” laughed Shedlauskas. “He said it was Best Jac, his registered name, but now that makes sense because that’s just him.”

Classic Connection

Lukas Mott

A little fancy, a little ranchy, is the name of the game for Lukas Mott and Wimpy To Trashya. The four-year-old mare moved from the New Mexico family ranch to the world of equine performance sports when Mott took a job working for Billy Williams in Texas.

“I started her myself in New Mexico—we drug calves, checked fences, and she was just a little ranch pony,” said Mott. “When I moved, she was my opportunity to get in the show pen, and she did well at the Futurity so now she’s my little show pony instead of my ranch pony.”

Wimpy To Trashya, affectionately known as ‘Narnia’, is by Wimpy Little Step and out of Ready To Trashya. For both the mare and Mott, this is their first trip to the National Reining Breeders Classic.

“There’s a lot of opportunities for young horses and the riders to do well at this show,” said Mott. “For my first time at a show, I’m having a lot of fun, and it’s really nice to be here.”

Outside of the showpen, Narnia is one versatile horse. Besides her time on the ranch, the mare has been used to pony colts, to day work, and even took a stint as a model in downtown Fort Worth.

Vendor Promo Spotlight Ranch Hand Solar Lighting

Check out the Ranch Hand Solar Lighting booth in the Mustang Arena for an exclusive NRBC promo! Any orders placed during the show will receive a 10% discount. NRBC patrons can also look forward to free shipping—excluding pro series—on any order placed at the show.

“We provide affordable, quality lighting where you need it most, without the wires, electric bills, or an electrician,” said Todd Barden of Ranch Hand Solar Lighting. “Come on by and see us in the Mustang Arena.”

Classic Connection

Jordan Du Plessis

Jordan Du Plessis has shown in the United States before, but despite her deep love for reining, the South African resident had never attended the NRBC.

“The standard for reining in South Africa is not like in the U.S.,” explained Du Plessis. “I’ve always wanted to be good at reining, and I had a trainer who told me that if I wanted to be serious about it, I would need to come and show here.”

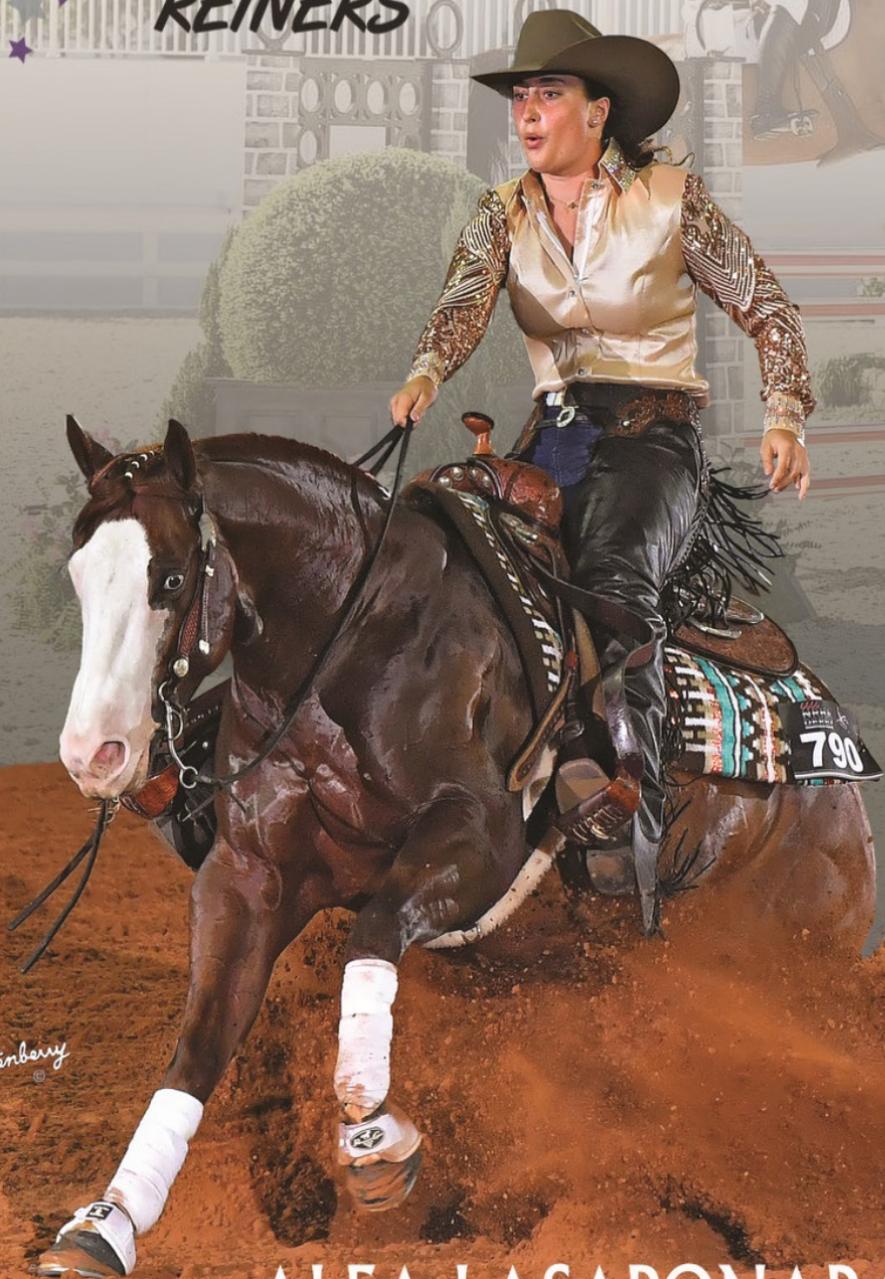

Du Plessis has ridden in South Africa since she was young— she attended a school that included riding lessons as part of the curriculum, and spent her fair share of time begging her mom for additional lessons, until she finally gave in. From there, Du Plessis describes her involvement in the equine industry as being ‘straight down the rabbit hole.’ The 21-year-old keeps busy working in the offshore oil and gas industry, but whenever she’s able, she embarks on the roughly 20 hour flight to Tioga, Texas to see her best boy- Bay.

Du Plessis owns Alpha Taris Chic, a 2018 gelding by Wimpy Chic and out of Taris Attraction. She keeps the gelding, in training with Mathison Reining Horses. The pair has shown at a few other American shows, but this was their first time to show at the NRBC.

“There are a lot of horses here and it’s all just really fun,” said Du Plessis. “I feel like I can learn a lot just by watching everyone and not just when I’m riding.”
